MORTON'S VISIT.

The Vice President-elect Takes in the Sights of Indianapolis.

A Public Reception will be Held but Not in the Capitol.

Governor Gray Avoids Refusing the Use of the Room.

Rumor Gives Senator Mitchell a Place in the New Cabinet.

Morton at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, December 13.—The people in this city had good opportunity to day to see General Harrison and Mr Morton, those two gentlemen taking a long walk about the residence and business portion of the city in the forenoon, while their wives were out for a long drive In the afternoon and evening there were many callers at the Harrison residence, some calling to talk politics, but a great majority coming to pay their respects to the visitors

Mr. Morton to day sent word to the citizens' committee cordially accepting the tender of a public reception, and informing them that he had invited General and Mrs Harrison, Mr. and Mrs J R McKee and Secretary Halford and wife to receive with himself and Mr Morton. The committee at once called at the rooms of Governor Gray, to receive his reply to their request made last night for the use of the elegant reception rooms on the main floor of the capitol building. To their surprise the committee were informed by Pierce Gray, son and private secretary of the governor, that the latter had departed early in the morning without having left any instructions His son would not assume authority in the premises and the committee left the capitol in a very ruffled frame of mind They afterwards secured Tomlinson's hall and the reception will occur there from 8 to 10 p. m Friday

Mr Morton complained this evening of a cold, which had settled in his throat, and is inclined to remain indoors He believed they would start for home Saturday evening, but members of General Harrison's family say their guests will be prevailed upon to remain over Sunday at least, and longer if possible.

CHICAGO, December 13.—A special from Indianapolis says: A significant bit of gossip regarding the cabinet came from one of General Harrison's friends to day. It relates to the recognition the Pacific coast will probably receive There are various [illegible] a belief that one of the administration advisers will represent that section and according to a gentleman whose views are followed, the honor will not as everybody supposed, fall on a California man, but Senator Mitchell of Oregon is likely to be the choice of the president-elect.

The Parnell Inquiry.

LONDON, December 13.—At the meeting of the Parnell commission Constable Feeley testified that he attended several league meetings. At one Parnell made a speech One of his remarks was "These are days for action, not for words."

A man named Buckeye, who said he was a laborer, testified that he was sworn in as a member of the Fenian brotherhood in November '80 at Tralee Cause way. In '82 a man named Roach had been expelled from the league for giving information to the police which led to the arrest of several members A meeting was held and it was arranged that witness with Fitzgerald and Phoenix should shoot Roach. Revolvers were given them for the purpose They followed Roach, but found no opportunity to shoot him. A meeting was held shortly afterwards at the house of a man named Casey. Witness was asked whether he would undertake to shoot Roach if the league provided him with funds to escape to America Witness consented, was given a revolver and twenty-four cartridges and agreed to practice, and improve his aim It was arranged that after he had shot Roach he should take shelter at the house of a man named Dean, and witnesses would be forthcoming to swear he was not in the vicinity at the time of the murder. Witness afterwards met Roach driving cattle and attempted to [illegible] He pulled the trigger of his revolver three times, but the weapon missed fire. Roach then bolted. Witness was arrested charged with attempting the crime, but witness swore he was at Dean's house when the attempt was made, and he was released Witness some time after applied to the league for money to go to America and obtained two pounds and ten shillings He expressed dissatisfaction with the amount but Phoenix told him he could not get any more in view of his failure to shoot Roach On cross examination witness avowed that his attempt on Roach's life was genuine Before the occurrence he used to practice firing with a revolver at a stone of the size of a man's head This statement caused a sensation

A Bank Sneak Captured.

DENVER, December 13.—A bold attempt at robbery was made this afternoon by a couple of bank sneak thieves at the People's Savings and Deposit bank, on Arapahoe street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets which resulted in the capture of one of the thieves by E C Tanner, the teller of the bank, at the point of a revolver, and his safe incarceration in the city jail At 12 o'clock when most of the bank force had gone to lunch, the two thieves walked into the bank, and while one busied himself apparently in writing a check in the front part of the bank the other skulked noiselessly around behind the counter and entered the vault unperceived by either the paying teller or the book keeper, the only persons behind the counter The former had occasion to turn to look at a ledger which was lying on the counter in his rear, and as he did so he saw the thief who had been in the vault just leaving it The teller seized a revolver and covered the thief behind the counter, and kept him until the arrival of a patrol wagon but the robber in front of the counter escaped. No money was obtained from the bank, but when the captured robber was searched at the jail $40 was found on his person. He gave the name of J Metz but this is supposed to be fictitious

Army Promotions

WASHINGTON, December 13 — The death of Major Edward B. Spaulding, Fourth cavalry, will cause the following promotions: Captain Michael Cooney, Ninth cavalry, to be major Fourth cavalry; First Lieutenant Joseph Garrard, Ninth cavalry to be captain; Second Lieutenant Alfred B. Jackson, Ninth cavalry, to be first lieutenant Steel [illegible] for the U. P.

PITTSBURG, December 13 The big steel rail contract of the Union Pacific railroad, for which Carnegie and the North Chicago Rolling Mill company have been bidding, has been secured by the Chicago firm. The figure, which is taken from the best information attainable, is not over $27 a ton for 17,000 tons.

Presidential Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Dec 13.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate: S. Parker Norton, Salt Lake City, Utah to be surveyor general of Utah; Ira M. Kautz, Indiana, register of the land office at North Yakima, Washington territory, H [illegible] Minnesota agent for Indians at the Nez Perces agency, Idaho.

The [illegible] Affair.

LONDON, December 13.—In the commons to night Sir James Ferguson, under foreign secretary, replying to Lord Randolph Churchill, said the American minister had presented a note on the Sackville affair a few days ago, and it had been referred to Lord Sackville for comment Correspondence on the subject could not be published until complete.

[illegible] Sheriffs.

DENVER, December 13.—The different sheriffs from throughout the state met at 2 o'clock this afternoon and proceeded with the business before the meeting. The subject of curtailing the fee system was [illegible] consideration. The matter of capital punishment was considered, and it was thought advisable to have all hangings take place privately at the state penitentiary. No definite action, however, was taken.

Severe Weather on the Coast.

NEW YORK, December 14.—A Sunday, Cape Breton special says A fearful storm with wind seventy miles an hour, accompanied by snow and sleet, has been raging here since Tuesday night. Many houses were unroofed and people turned half clad into the howling tempest. The wires are down every direction. From all points accessible come tales of fearful suffering and shipwrecks at sea. It is feared when all points are heard from there will be much loss of life

A Safe Robbed.

LEADVILLE, December 13.—A safe in the room of W. R. Chadbourne, manager of the Mikado Mining company was opened by some person who knew the combination, on Monday morning, and $2700 in money extracted; also $250,000 worth of mining stock, the latter being of value only to Mr. Chadbourne, as it was made out in his name. The matter was placed in the hands of the police but the theft could not be traced

The Alabama Tragedy.

BIRMINGHAM, December 13.—The coroner's jury to-day began investigating the shooting at the county jail on Saturday night last Mayor Thompson testified that the crowd continued to advance on the jail after repeated warnings given by himself, the sheriff and many others The crowd made many threats and he believed they were in earnest. The troops have all left the city and only a small force of deputy sheriffs is guarding the jail. All is quiet

The Passenger Rate War.

CHICAGO, December 13.—The passenger rate war from Chicago to Kansas City came off to day, bringing it down to $[illegible] The cut was made by scalpers, the railroads simply following up their policy of meeting all scalpers' rates openly.

Chairman Abbott announces that all lines operating between Chicago and St. Paul have now all agreed to put rates up again as soon as possible, and will to morrow give the necessary ten days notice of their intention to restore all passenger rates in both directions, taking effect December 24. In the meantime they will make no further reduction

Pertinent on the Irish Question.

LONDON, December 12.—Monsignor Persico's report on the Irish question is almost completed He directs attention to the anomalous fact that all government authorities in Ireland from the lord lieutenant downward are Protestants and not well disposed toward Catholics On the other hand he says, the agrarian struggle [illegible] a violation of moral laws The Irish people refuse absolutely to admit that the plan of campaign is criminal The pope may still do much, provided he can convince the Irish people he is not acting in accordance with an agreement with the English government The people must be made to comprehend the moral importance of their acts They must not serve as the instrument of those who, under pretext of nationality, lead them to the commission of acts that are contrary to morality. He signifies the opinion that Irish political aspirations must be satisfied before peace can be restored.

NEW STATES.

A Democratic Caucus Attended by Sixty Congressmen.

They Come to an Understanding on the Admission of Territories.

All Applications Endorsed by a Comprehensive Resolution.

The Question of Union with Canada Brought Before the House

Democratic Caucus.

WASHINGTON, December 13 — The house democratic caucus to night, after a session lasting over three hours, adopted the following resolution.

Resolved, That in the judgment of this caucus provision should be made by which Dakota may be admitted into the union as one state or two states as the people of the two proposed states may hereafter determine Also that necessary legislation ought to be provided for early admission into the union of the territories of Washington, Montana and New Mexico, and that these measures should all be embodied in one bill, either by amendment of the pending bill or otherwise as to details as the committee on territories shall determine, and that an order of the house for consideration of the measures should be made at an early day and the bill considered in the house at the earliest day practicable

Utah although not mentioned in the resolution, it was agreed should be admitted into the Union, but by a separate bill. Sixty members were in attendance at the caucus, and it was evident they had come to an understanding since the previous night.

Looking with Canada.

WASHINGTON, December 13.—Butterworth of Ohio has introduced for reference the following joint resolution:

WHEREAS, Citizens of the Dominion of Canada are with us in race, lineage, history and traditions;

WHEREAS, The resources of the two countries supplement each other, and their arteries of commerce, both natural and artificial are so interlocked and mutually dependent upon each other, they ought to constitute a single system, to be one and so inseparable.

WHEREAS, The commercial relations between the United States and the Dominion of Canada are and have been strained and unnaturally cramped and in a measure paralyzed, owing to the inability of the two governments to establish such a system of international trade and commerce between the United States as is essential to meet the requirements of the situation;

WHEREAS, The conditions and relations before referred to, as also the geography of the two countries suggest the impossibility of a just and permanent settlement of the controversies pertaining to the fisheries, boundaries and transcontinental trade except by blending efforts and interests under one governmental system, and point logically to the necessity and probability of unity and assimilation between the two nations under one government.

WHEREAS, The bonds of sympathy, resulting from kinship of race, language, tradition and substantial identity of governmental systems, together with the [illegible] upon commerce and its aids and agencies, are of such a character that such union and assimilation are being discussed and favorably considered by the citizens of both nations and foreshadow as it is believed early consummation would be of great advantage to all the citizens and subjects of the two countries, provided the same can be attained in a manner consistent alike with the honor and dignity of the United States and Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada, therefore, with a view to aid in the consummation of what is hereinbefore suggested [illegible]

Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives of the United States, in congress assembled that the president be and is hereby authorized to invite [illegible] that the consolidation and unity of the people of the Dominion of Canada and the United States under one government, such unity and assimilation to be based upon the admission of the several provinces of the Dominion or any one of them into the union of states upon the same terms and equality with the several states now comprising the union, and the assumption by the United States of the indebtedness of the Dominion of Canada or a just proportion thereof, and such other equitable terms and conditions as justice to the high contracting parties may dictate, and so it is

Resolved, Further, that with a view to such negotiations the president invite the appointment of commissioners by the government of Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada, to consider the wisdom and expediency of settling and adjusting all controversies and differences which now exist between the two governments growing out of the fisheries or otherwise, by such union and assimilation as were hereinbefore suggested, either as to the whole or any [illegible] of the several provinces constituting said dominion, such negotiations to be conducted with due regard to the amicable relations which obtain between Great Britain and the United States and the obligations imposed thereby

A Maniac in a Bank

SAN BERNARDINO, Cala., December 13.—John Oaks, who has been working on a railroad here some time, went to the bank yesterday to have a check cashed Cashier Morse informed him that he would have to be identified This morning he returned in company with a man from Arizona and presented the check again Morse told him he would have to be identified Oaks said "I'll make you," and drawing a revolver fired Morse returned the fire and nine shots were exchanged Morse was shot through the lungs and died in a short time Oaks was only slightly injured

His companion had no idea what was going to happen and is innocent of complicity in the crime It has been learned that Oaks was released from a term in the insane asylum before coming here, and physicians who examined him at the jail say he was insane at the time of the shooting Morse leaves a wife but no children

The Highwayman's Wife.

HANNIBAL, Mo., December 13.—Mrs Mary Boles, a respectable woman of this city, is the wife of a noted lone highwayman of California A reporter called on Mrs Boles and asked her if she knew of her husband's whereabouts She said. "The last letter received from him was dated February 21. He said if he could be spared he would be with us by Christmas at the farthest He knows detectives are on his track You ask me why he does that, what he is [illegible] No matter where I called it home I believe he is engaged in mining to some secluded place in the mountains though of course I do not know I know what I read in the papers about the detectives I know he will come I know that he still loves us Evidence to my possession shows beyond all doubt that he is still alive [illegible] when we last saw him twenty years ago It has been said his depredations and robberies are confined exclusively to the Wells Fargo Express company I do not say that [illegible] Wells Fargo money is [illegible] enough to answer for But I say sir, he has some noble traits of character, and if they would only let him alone I know he would henceforth lead an honorable life Mrs Boles has lived in this city twelve or thirteen years She has three daughters, two married and living here The third lives with her mother and is an estimable young lady

A Struggle for Millions

NEW YORK, December 13 —A romantic story was recently sent from Edinburg about the discovery of the heirs of Thomas H. Blythe, the California millionaire Now comes another story which appears to be strongly established, the rights of another lot of claimants According to this new story the rich Californian originally came from London, where his nephews Thomas and James Savage, and his cousin, Michael Savage have been engaged as chimney sweeps for thirty years The real name of Thomas H Blythe is said to have been Thomas H Savage. When a lad of 17 he was a chimney sweep in London, but was transported to Australia for stealing a silver cruet. There he got a ticket of leave and assumed the name of Blythe, which belonged to an aunt From Australia he went to California and amassed the fortune now in litigation. Testimony to establish these facts has been sent to the probate court of San Francisco by the Savages in London, who in the meantime are following the chimney sweeping business

There is still another feature to the case which brings in another claimant. It is said Blythe went to London in 1872 and fell in with a woman named Julia Perry This woman became the mother of a child named Flora, of which she told Blythe he was the father. When he went back to San Francisco he acknowledged Flora as his child. Even though she be illegitimate, under the laws of California Flora can inherit Blythe's millions if she can prove he is her father. Flora has taken steps to establish her claims

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, December 13.—To-day's stock market was less interesting than any of its predecessors for the past few weeks, being more than usual under the control of the bearish element, which sawed prices up and down several times, with their bearish inclinations showing in the downward drift of values. News of the day was not of a reassuring character as that which has been received for the past few days, railroad stocks in the west were distributed by the Chicago & Alton proving a stumbling block in the way of advance in both passenger and freight rates The general list was very quiet, and the great bulk of business done was confined to only nine stocks, although the number of inactive shares traded in was much larger than usual. The active list is almost invariably lower. Governments dull, steady to firm.

See and hear "Talking with the Pencil" to-night at the Methodist church.

"Talking with the Pencil" is a new kind of entertainment, different from any ever given in this city.

Mr. A. Sutton has resumed his duties at the First National bank, having been laid up for nearly two weeks by cutting his foot with an axe.

About five million brick were manufactured in this city the past year. Callaway and Rankin made 3,000,000, and W. H. Goshen 2,000,000.

Remember the mass meeting at the Opera house Friday evening in the interests of Colorado college. The exercises will commence promptly at eight o'clock.

The family of Mr. J. L. Stubbs have been [illegible] of the children have died from diphtheria and now the third and last one is seriously ill with the same disease.

The ladies of the Christian church will continue their bazaar at the city hall this afternoon and evening. Luncheon will be served after six o'clock. Admission free. Luncheon 25 cts.

Mr. Frank B. Teachout, who lately resigned his position with the Colorado Midland railway, as chief clerk of the freight and passenger accounts, has accepted a position with the D. & R. G. at Pueblo as ticket clerk.

Tejon Lodge Knights of Honor will nominate and elect officers for the coming year at the regular meeting to be held on Friday evening, December 14th. All members and visiting brothers in good standing are specially invited to attend.

The ladies of the Christian church have a very fine display of useful and ornamental articles suitable for holiday presents, at their bazaar which will be open again this afternoon and evening at the city hall. Luncheon in the evening. No charge at the door.

President B. R. Cable, of the Rock Island road, arrived in the city yesterday morning in his private car. He was accompanied by his wife. Mr. Cable went to Denver during the day, but returned in the evening, accompanied by General Manager H. A. Parker of the Chicago, Kansas and Nebraska.

Messrs. Sperry & Tuckerman, agents of the [illegible] Williams house paints manufactured at Cleveland, O., have sold 10,000 gallons of the paint during the past year. They are placing a cellar under their establishment in which to store the paint, their present store room having become too small.

Prof. Carter's entertainment: "Talking with the Pencil," will be given at the Methodist church this evening for the benefit of the High School library fund. The entertainment is highly spoken of by all who have witnessed it. Balmer's orchestra will render several choice selections during the evening. Admission 50 cents; children 25 cents.

An adjourned meeting of the Grace church branch of the woman's auxiliary to the board of missions will be held at the Grace church rooms this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when an account of the missions in the diocese will be read. Annual subscriptions are due and will be received by Mrs. D. Russ Wood, treasurer, or by Mrs. M. A. Garstin, president, 138 North Tejon street.

The police "pulled" a room in the second story of the First National bank building yesterday evening in which a number of men were playing at a game of [illegible]. Five of them were taken into custody, but the sixth line took to his heels down Tejon street with a "bobby" in full pursuit. The policeman was the best man. If they are sufficiently cooled off this morning Judge Shideler will attend to them.

The stockholders of the Green Mountain Falls company were in session Tuesday and a part of yesterday. The reports of the secretary and treasurer of the company were read, which showed its affairs in fine condition. A large number of improvements were discussed, and which will be made during the coming year. Among them will be an application for a school district, and a school house will be built next spring anyway. In addition the company will hereafter do a general real estate business and will also have the agency for a number of the best insurance companies in the country. Mr. Charles Sprague will have charge of this branch of the business. Every indication is that next summer Green Mountain Falls will be over run with people. Rooms at the hotel and tents by the dozen have already been engaged by eastern people and also by many Colorado people. At the meeting of the stockholders on Tuesday evening the following directors of the company were chosen: F. E. Dow, I. J. Woodworth, Dr. M. H. Smith, E. W. Sells, J. H. Reed, C. W. Sprague and W. J. Foster. At the meeting of the directors yesterday the following officers were chosen: F. E. Dow, president and executive director; Dr. M. H. Smith, vice president, I. J. Woodworth, secretary and treasurer and consulting attorney; W. J. Foster, general manager, and Charles Sprague, superintendent of real estate and insurance. It will be seen that there will be no change in the management. Dr. Smith and Mr. Woodworth are perhaps the only two of the officers who are not well known to the business men of the city. They are both recent comers who have settled in Colorado Springs to invest the means which they have acquired in the practice of their professions elsewhere. Mr. Woodworth was for many years a teacher in a business college in one of the large cities of Illinois, and Dr. Smith gave up a fine practice in one of the eastern states to become a resident of this city. Ex-Mayor Dow needs no introduction to the people of Colorado Springs, while Messrs. C. W. Sprague and J. W. Foster gained enviable reputations for themselves as pushing young business men and [illegible] by several business venture which they have successfully carried through during the year.

During the past spring and [illegible] our southern brethren have thronged into Colorado and after climbing our peaks, expanding our lungs and growing fat in many cases, to their heart's content, returned delighted with our scenery, attractions and charmed by the spirit of hearty hospitality with which they were received. Now it is our turn. The Fort Worth Railroad has given us the opportunity. Their advertising department has just issued a pamphlet entitled "Winter Tourist Tickets and Rates from the Ocean to the Sea," giving reduced rates for this winter [illegible] and the [illegible] of a number of different routes through the South. Colorado has enjoyed pretty much the [illegible] of a severe winter, but many of them would be glad to [illegible] with the chance to see a real old-fashioned blizzard, and a fight to [illegible] perpetually blooming Austin, Galveston, San Antonio or New Orleans. Wrong Impressions Corrected!

No one should suppose because of the quantities of Indian goods to be seen in our store that such things are plentiful or easily obtained. As a matter of fact they can only be picked up here and there in the Indian country by persistent efforts. While on my recent collecting trip I bought everything I could find in this line, without any regard to quantity, and I doubt if all other Curiosity stores in Colorado and New Mexico together could make as large a showing of the same class of goods. What is seen in our store constitutes about three fourths of the VISIBLE SUPPLY. It may be said in fact that we have a CORNER ON THE MARKET. We do not intend to take advantage of our customers on this account, however, but will give them all a chance to come in and COVER THEIR SHORTAGE before the prices go up.

We are having brief histories of some of our Indian wares printed on slips of paper, and customers who buy such articles for presents will be furnished with as many of the slips as they need for their friends. It will save much writing and the slips may be kept with the articles in the cabinet.

We pack for shipment without extra charge, any fragile articles sold by us, as we know that inexperienced picking of such goods is apt to result in disaster.

We have a large stock of Gold and Silver Filigree Jewelry this year, made by Mexicans in Santa Fe, and our stock of Navajo jewelry and Apache goods is very complete.

We have just had five dozen choice genuine Indian arrow heads mounted as Scarf and Lace Pins, and have had three dozen fine Mexican Opals, handsomely mounted in Scarf Pins and Finger Rings, all of which will be on sale this morning.

Some one asked me the other day if I bought any Opals while in New Mexico. Why, we have the past year carried a larger Stock of Opals than all the dealers in New Mexico together, and I took Opals down there with me to sell to them at wholesale. We act as agents for the largest Opal dealer of Mexico.

Manager of the Gazette.

Remember the college mass meeting to-night. All true friends of education and the best interest of this city should attend. This includes ladies as well as gentlemen. We [illegible] stated the value of an institution of learning. But this is the first time we have had an opportunity to really put forth efforts which could come to bring forth such a result. The opera house should be crowded to-[illegible].

We have received reports of the forestry congress, which met at Atlanta on the 4th, 5th and 6th of December. The proceedings were full of interest. A large number of papers were read on various subjects connected with the work of the congress. Among them were two papers by Colonel Ensign on "The Advantage and Limitation of the Colorado Forestry System," and "A Plea for the Rocky Mountain Forests." Both of these papers can to have been listened to with great attention. Colonel Ensign took quite an active part in the proceedings and was made chairman of the committee on resolutions. Mr. George H. Parsons was elected one of the five vice presidents. There seems to be some appreciation of the importance of [illegible] efforts. Until within fifty years, the most practical question in this country has been how to get rid of the trees, so as to have more farming land. We have finally awakened to the fact that the forest area has not been altogether too limited, and that there should be special encouragement for the [illegible].

Senator Teller's remark in New York, that he would not serve in the senate with Mr. Tabor, seems to have made a great sensation. Actually, because Senator Teller has been a political ally of Mr. Tabor during the past six years, particularly in the fight of 1882 and 1883. It is unfortunate that Mr. Tabor does not realize his limitations. He has a high reputation as an honorable business man. He is also known among politicians as a man who keeps his word. He has been a very generous, self-sacrificing friend. No man in the state has been more liberal in assisting [illegible] public improvements. Because of these things, the people of this state feel very kindly disposed toward him, and would like to show their appreciation of him by honoring him with office. But Mr. Tabor, not recognizing his own limitations, is always asking for positions which he cannot fill. The [illegible] he did not receive the nomination for governor, and was not elected to the senate four years ago, was not because the people of this state did not feel kindly toward him, but because they felt the position was beyond his education. There will be the same feeling in the senatorial contest this year. Senator Teller will have no occasion to resign, for Mr. Tabor will not be elected as his colleague.

The St. Louis Globe Democrat, speaking of Chauncey M. Depew's appointment as minister to [illegible], says: "Chauncey is a square, outspoken, robust American. This cannot be truthfully said of either James Russell Lowell or Edward J. Phelps." It is a question of terms. For ourselves, we much prefer the kind of a robust American Lowell is. This cannot be found out by reading Pat Ford's opinion of Lowell so well as by reading his works. Take his Biglow Papers, the recent volume of "Political Essays," the essays on Lincoln and the "Commemoration Ode" read at Harvard in '66. We find in them the most intense American feeling and patriotism. He is not a "jingo" writer, but he is a man who cares for the honor of his country. He looks at all questions from a sense of right and wrong. He has always been in advance of public sentiment. He was despised just as much forty years ago for opposing the Mexican war and for advocating the abolition of slavery as he is now for demanding purity in politics. A good many people than thought he was not [illegible] because he was not one of the time serving politicians who float with the tide. He was one of the first men to really appreciate the true greatness of Lincoln's character. The article which he wrote for the North American Review early in 1864, to assist in his renomination, is in some respects the truest estimate yet made of Lincoln. Most men did not see his true greatness until after his death. But Lowell was so much of an American that he appreciated the simplicity and beauty of his character. There is no American writer whose books give us such hope in [illegible] and implicit faith in self-government by the people. If we wish to educate our young men to be [illegible] American citizens, no better [illegible] could be put in their hands than his various political [illegible]. He never struck a false note. His notes have only appeared false when uttered. Fifteen years and often less have always shown their true [illegible]. If Depew rather than Lowell is to be accepted as the best type of native Americanism, it means that we prefer office seeking to unselfish patriotism, time serving [illegible] to truth telling [illegible] a legislative lobbyist to a political prophet. It is after all as we said in the beginning a question of terms. It simply depends on what one understands by [illegible] American citizen. This is a free country and the Gazette [illegible] Free [illegible] to express [illegible].

FALCON

Junction of the Rock Island and Fort Worth Railroads

A Boom that is a Boom!

Hotels, restaurants and private houses besieged and overrun by new comers and investors. 100 men have found steady employment and there is now work for 100 more.

An enormous exchange business between the two railroads, requiring a score of men and acres of side and connection tracks. Every stranger that visits Falcon expresses surprise to find so many substantial improvements, so much business and life, and they become inspired with a feeling of confidence at once and want to own property here while it can be had at the original low prices. Nothing has been misrepresented to them; everything that has been advertised and promised has been fulfilled to the letter.

ONLY THINK OF IT!

Where six weeks ago there came now there is a 80 room Hotel nearly completed, two general stores, one drug store, meat market, blacksmith shop, weekly newspaper, half dozen restaurants, two large lumber yards, two railroad stations, forty odd private dwellings.

Still we need a hardware store, a clothing store, shoe store, furniture store, brick yard, grain store, livery stable, and a great many other enterprises that this place will sustain and that will thrive and prosper.

Now is the time to invest in Falcon. Harrison and Morton's election is assured, and that means four years of good times and prosperity for Colorado.
